Programming Realities

Bright Spots:

GHS: Centralia College conducted a graduation ceremony awarding 6 Associate degrees and 2 Bachelor degrees. The living unit conditions are improving with weekly cleaning inspections, infrastructure investments and campus beautification.

EGCC: 22 Educational/Vocational/Enrichment Programs were delivered in June (1,155 Hours), The Pre-Apprentice Pilot Summer Vocational Barber Program Launched, and the Youish – Financial Literacy and Self Efficacy supplemental learning opportunities for max units ended its first semester pilot with success.

HH: Initial responses from the young people have been that they were able to decompress from the overcrowded pressure occurring at GHS. Initial programming included Credible Messengers, ROCA, and vocational experience building out the recreation space.

Challenges:

GHS: Challenges continue to include staffing to the higher population, a few incidents of aggression related to affiliation conflict that is difficult to manage when overcapacity.

EGCC: Max units continue to have the lowest # of participants in educational, vocational and enrichment programming on campus, working to bring programming to those cottages

HH: Challenges are onboarding new programs and new staff simultaneously, while slowly increasing the population. With any new program and facility, flexibility and adaptability are inherent.

Behavior Management & Hearings Update

Rule Violation Response (RVR) Implementation Update:

Policies are under development for Behavior Management System and internal reviews have launched for serious violations at secure facilities.

Staff trainings and resident briefings have been held at secure facilities. Community Facilities have reviewed and given feedback on the violations identified. Those updates along with updates proposed from secure facilities and JR executive leadership will be brought back to JR executive leadership for final approval prior to updating current process. Once youth and staff are briefed and trained on this process, implementation in CFs will begin.
